The Pro Makeup Workshop course takes you through Nathan's exact makeup tricks he's used on countless celebrities over the years. Once you've mastered the individual techniques, you'll be ready to combine your new skills to create more challenging looks.

Avant-garde eyeliner and glamorous red-carpet looks are just the tip of the iceberg!

Here's a sneak peek of a couple assignments you'll do for your course.

Unit A: Assignment 7 – Eyeliner for the Runway

In this assignment, you'll be tested on your creativity in enhancing eye makeup for the runway. You'll start by creating the eyeliner look. Don't be afraid to challenge yourself!

Steps:

1. Take a before shot of your model's eyes. Frame the photo so it clearly shows your model's eyes and brows.
2. Choose the eyeliner look you wish to create.
 - Two-tone liner
 - Three-tone liner
 - Ombre liner
 - Two-tiered wing liner
 - A fantasy look with liner on or around the lash lines and lids

3. Complete the runway liner look. Here's what Nathan's looking for in your application:
 - Creativity: The runway is all about a statement. It is where the makeup trends for the next season are born.
 - Precision: Uniformity in makeup is a huge part of your skill and artistry. The application should be exact for both eyes. If the eyes are different, then the liner must be adjusted to make them look the same. Liners that are not the same on both sides will change the shape of the client's eyes and face for the worse.
 - Smoothness: The application should be smooth and even. If your eyeliner has bumps or spaces, correct it. Also, be sure it is flush with the lash line.
4. Take two close-up photos of your model. Frame the photos so they clearly show her eyes both open and closed. Submit them with the original before photo to your tutor, Nathan.

Why we love it:

When you're working for a large production, you're expected to develop looks that both engage the audience and flatter your models' features. You may not always take on clients who want you to stray from the norm, but the runway is a place for creativity and avant-garde artistry. This is your chance to show off your creativity and passion for makeup while adding beautiful photos to your portfolio!

Unit B: Assignment 4 – Dramatic Pin-Up

The pin-up look is timeless and infinitely transformable. Now is the time to let your creativity soar. Using elements of the classic pin-up, you'll create a modern and more dramatic pin-up look. Whether you choose to wing out the liner, add a smoky eye, create a gradient on the lip, intensify the blush, or any combination thereof, is entirely up to you!

Steps:

1. Take a before shot of your model's face. Frame the photo so it clearly shows your model's entire face.
2. Create the dramatic pin-up look. Here's what Nathan is looking for in your application:
 - Elements of the Classic: Clean skin, softly defined eye, slight cat liner, red lip, and defined brow of the classic pin-up look shouldn't be completely lost in your new look.
 - Precision: All makeup requires precision but none more than the dramatic pin-up. The use of bold lip colors, winged liner, and added drama leave little room for error. Ensure symmetry in your application.
 - Creativity: This is your moment to express yourself through your artistry. Turn the classic look on its head, and use this opportunity to show your voice as an artist.
3. Take two after photos of your model's face. Frame the photos so they clearly show her eyes both open and closed. Submit them with the original before photo to your tutor, Nathan.

Why we love it:

As an evolving artist, you'll need to know how to recreate classic looks as well as adapt them to suit the modern client. The ultimate secret to success lies in your creativity! Use this assignment to practice putting unique spins on classic looks. You can expand your opportunities as a professional makeup artist by showing your versatility.

Haley MacFarlane Bloos

"My model came to me with the request of turning her into a pinup girl for the night. We created this look using thick black eyeliner and a bold red lip. I threw a few pin curls around her face, and finished it off with my favorite ABH highlight on her nose and cheekbones!"

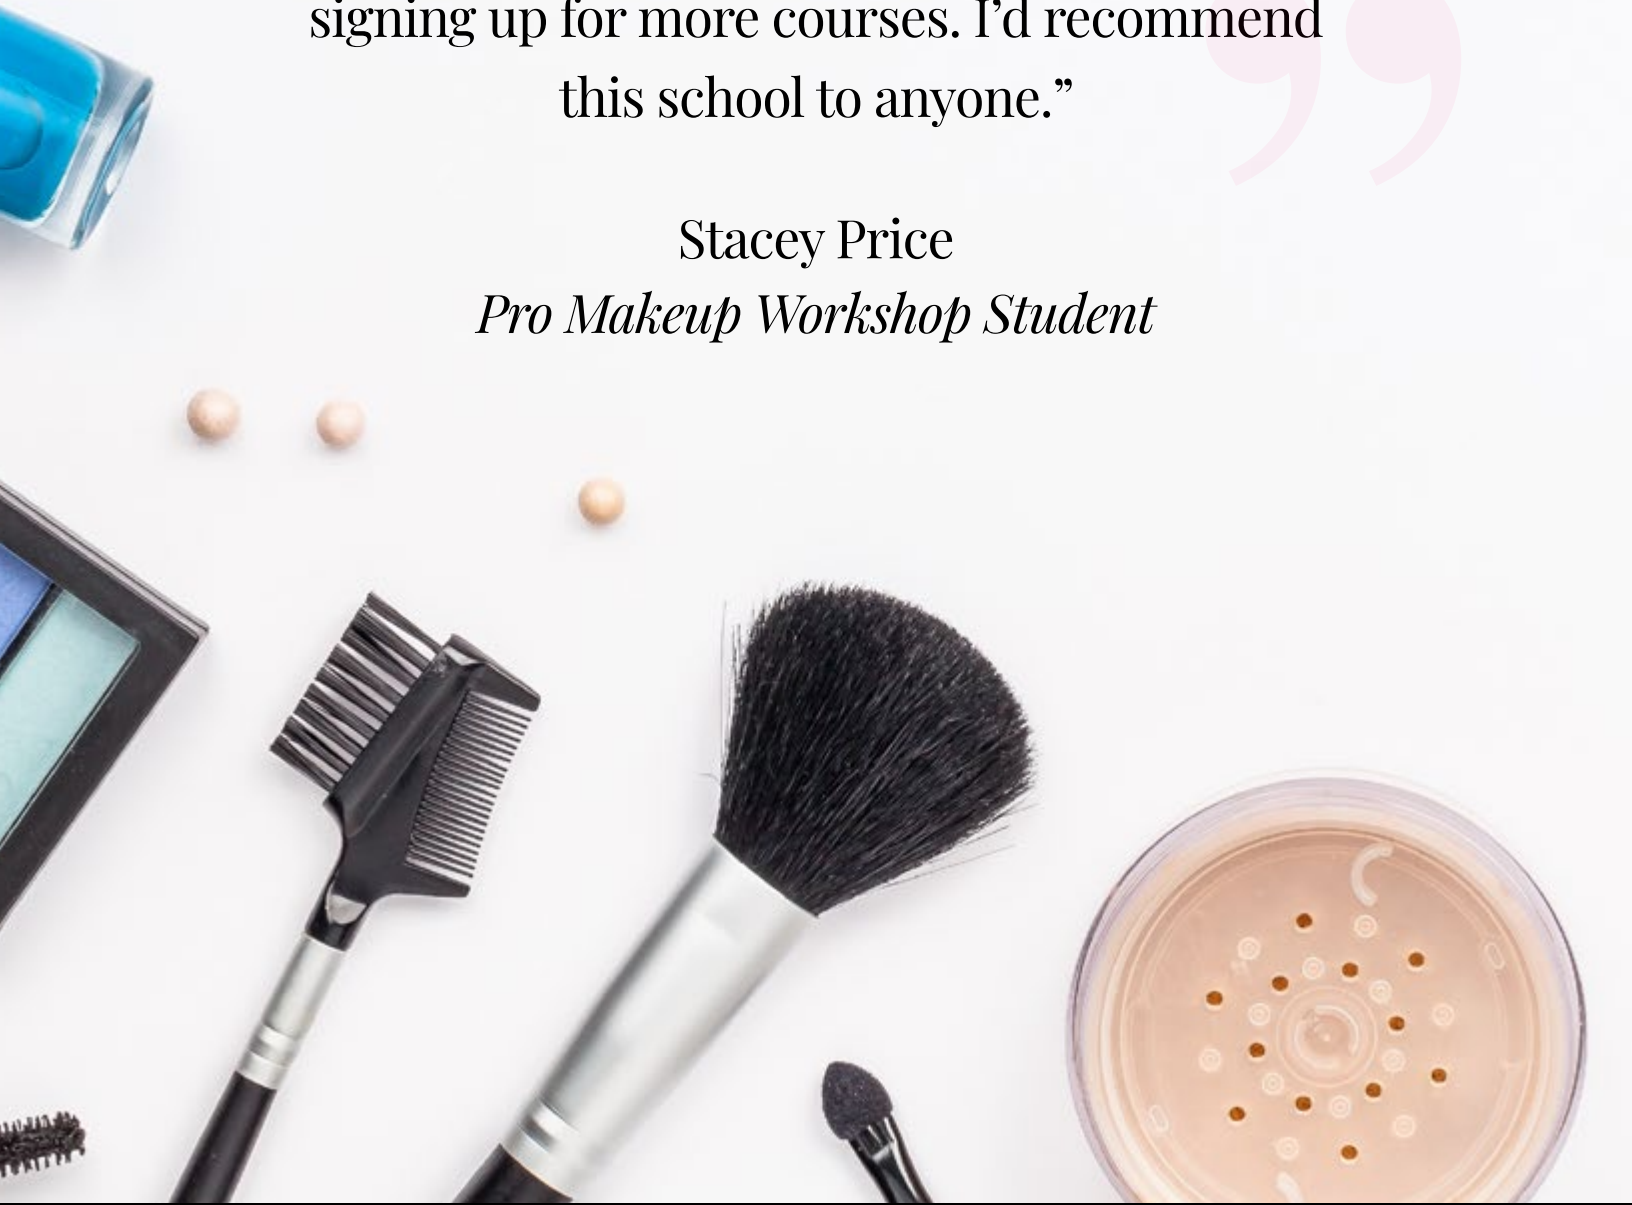

Laylah Quirin

"My work of yesterday. I am pleased to show you the classic pinup look! Strong brows, false lashes and red lips... "

Take a Look:

The Pro Makeup Workshop has over 250 minutes of video demonstrating Nathan's best techniques for developing gorgeous makeup looks! Here's a sneak peek of one of our video lessons on glitter application.

A collection of makeup items is scattered across the bottom half of the page. On the left, there is a blue bottle, a palette with blue and green shades, and a brush. In the center, there are three small round objects, possibly beads or pearls. To the right, there is a large brush with black bristles, a small brush, and a compact with a pattern of dots on its lid.

“You have 3 years to complete the course. Being a single mother to 2 children under the age of 3, this is so beneficial for me. I love this course so much! I’m doing Master Makeup Artistry and the Pro Makeup workshop. Once I’ve completed them, I’ll be signing up for more courses. I’d recommend this school to anyone.”
